

Intelligent FOB Price for Integrated Container Racks

Article Overview

The FOB price for intelligent integrated container racks depends on production costs, packaging, domestic transport to the port, and loading, typically calculated per container or per unit before international shipping.

Understanding FOB Pricing

FOB (Free On Board) means the seller covers all costs up to the point the goods are loaded onto the vessel at the export port. This includes production, packaging, inspection, domestic transportation to the port, and port handling fees. Once the goods are on the ship, all further costs, including ocean freight, insurance, and import duties, are the buyer's responsibility .

Key Cost Components for Integrated Container Racks

- Production Costs: Material (metal or high-impact plastic), labor, and assembly of the intelligent racks. Plastic racks may reduce maintenance and rust-related costs compared to metal .
- Packaging Costs: Materials and labor to safely pack racks for container shipping. Proper packaging ensures no damage during transit .
- Domestic Transportation: Moving goods from the factory to the port, which varies depending on the port location (e.g., FOB Shanghai vs. FOB Ningbo can differ by $300-$800 per 20ft container), .
- Port Handling and Loading Fees: Terminal handling, crane or forklift charges, and documentation fees for export clearance
