

Norwegian manufacturer of fiber optic cables for smart buildings

Article Overview

Foss Fiber Optics is a leading Norwegian manufacturer of fiber optic cables and structured cabling solutions for smart buildings, offering both standard and customized systems.

Foss Fiber Optics

Foss Fiber Optics, established in 1984, is a market leader in fiber optic infrastructure in Norway, producing high-quality fiber optic cables, connectors, and structured cabling systems for residential, industrial, and office buildings . From autumn 2024, Foss has expanded its offerings to include a complete range of products for structured cabling in industrial and office buildings, specifically tailored to the Norwegian market . Their production facilities in Drammen and Lillesand allow for strict quality control, customization, and flexible delivery, which is particularly advantageous for smart building projects . Foss also provides Plug & Play solutions for demanding environments, ensuring pre-tested, factory-configured systems that simplify installation and reduce on-site errors .
