

Portuguese Spectrometer Manufacturer

Article Overview

Laboid International and UNICAM Sistemas Analíticos are leading spectrometer and spectrophotometer manufacturers in Portugal.

Laboid International

Laboid International is a prominent manufacturer and exporter of spectrophotometers and other laboratory instruments in Portugal . Established in 2018, the company specializes in precision laboratory equipment for scientific research, industrial applications, and clinical diagnostics. Their product range includes spectrophotometers, laboratory centrifuges, microscopes, shakers, mixers, and more. Laboid emphasizes accuracy, durability, and user-friendly design, and provides reliable delivery and customer support for both domestic and international clients .

UNICAM Sistemas Analíticos

UNICAM Sistemas Analíticos Lda offers a wide range of spectrophotometers, including models from Thermo Scientific such as the Evolution ONE, Evolution PRO, and Genesys series . These instruments are designed for educational, research, and quality control laboratories. UNICAM's spectrophotometers feature UV-VIS capabilities, xenon lamps for high-energy spectral emission, and automated qualification protocols that comply with pharmaceutical and industrial standards. Their software platform, Insight, ensures compliance with FDA regulations and facilitates laboratory validation
