

Spanish DIN rail industrial switch manufacturer

Article Overview

Venco Electrónica, S-Connect, and Matrix Electrónica are key Spanish manufacturers and suppliers of DIN rail industrial switches.

Key Spanish Manufacturers and Suppliers

Venco Electrónica offers a wide range of robust managed industrial switches with advanced networking features, including Layer 2 and Layer 3 models. Their switches support 6 to 28 Ethernet ports, Fast and Gigabit Ethernet, SFP modules, and industrial protocols such as PROFINET, EtherNet/IP, and Modbus/TCP. They are designed for harsh environments with wide temperature ranges, EMC Level 3/4, IP30/IP40 protection, and vibration-resistant DIN rail mounting . S-Connect specializes in DIN rail industrial switches for demanding environments like factories, production lines, and control cabinets. They distribute leading brands such as Moxa, Advantech, and Terz, offering models from 10 Mb/s to 1 Gb/s, including PoE+ versions for powering IP cameras, sensors, and access points. Their switches are suitable for automation projects, Industry 4.0, and OT networks, with features like microsecond-level latency, QoS, and high EMC resistance . Matrix Electrónica provides advanced industrial networking equipment with Layer 2 and Layer 3 management capabilities. They focus on total control, security, and flexibility for industrial IoT applications. Matrix offers pre-sales and after-sales support, project design, prototyping, and integration services, making them a reliable partner for industrial networking solutions in Spain .
