

Swedish Indoor Distribution Box Manufacturer

Article Overview

Key Swedish manufacturers and suppliers of indoor distribution boxes include Ahlsell, Könnér & Söhnen, and Weidmüller Sweden.

Ahlsell

Ahlsell is a major Swedish supplier of electrical installation materials, offering a wide range of distribution boxes for indoor use, including wall-mounted and portable units. Their products feature impact-resistant plastic housings, integrated service hatches, and IP44 protection, suitable for residential and commercial applications. Components are sourced from reputable European manufacturers such as Eaton and Weidmüller, ensuring high quality and compliance with Nordic electrical safety standards .

Könnér & Söhnen

Könnér & Söhnen provides indoor and outdoor distribution boards capable of handling up to 32A and multiple device groups. Their boards include protective devices like circuit breakers and fuses, grounding bars, and integrated sockets for direct equipment connection. The enclosures are designed for durability, impact resistance, and long service life, making them suitable for homes, offices, and construction environments .
