

Which company makes the best electrical distribution boxes in Mexico

Article Overview

Panelo, Electro Tableros, Grupo Eléctrico Dinor, and ShengenFab are among the most reliable manufacturers of electrical distribution boxes in Mexico.

Key Manufacturers

Panelo manufactures low- and medium-voltage switchgear, transfer switches, and UPS systems from plants in Monterrey and Guadalajara. Their products are UL- and ANSI-certified, designed for U.S. integrators, data centers, and utilities, with fast delivery and full engineering support . They offer service-entrance and distribution switchboards up to 600 V and 6000 A, with front- and rear-accessible configurations and full SCCR ratings . Electro Tableros has over 50 years of experience in electrical works, including high-voltage transmission and distribution. They specialize in industrial, commercial, and urban electrical distribution projects, providing reliable and large-scale solutions . Grupo Eléctrico Dinor focuses on manufacturing distribution boards for medium-voltage installations, along with transformers and conductors. Their products are designed for efficiency and protection in industrial electrical systems . ShengenFab offers custom power distribution boxes with modular designs, flexible input/output configurations, and weather-resistant construction. Their units are UL-listed, suitable for indoor and outdoor applications, and ideal for industrial, construction, and entertainment sectors .
